We will visit the elegant Repubblica square, the main square of Florence that marks the center of the city, and Signorina square, and an open-air museum.

You will also enjoy the sight of Palazzo Vecchio, a remarkable example of civil architecture. Here you will discover the copy of Michelangelo's David, right in front of Palazzo Vecchio, as a symbol of the Republic's defiance of the tyrannical Medici. Following the Arno River, we will walk towards Ponte Vecchio and its gold jewelry shops.

Uffizi Gallery was originally meant to be an Ufficio (office) for magistrates as well as judges, technicians and merchants of Florence, the top floor was turned into a private gallery for the pleasure of the ruling family of Florence, the Medici, and their guests. In addition to paintings, statues, jewelry, scientific instruments, even weapons, were displayed there, which made it one of the most interesting and precious collections in the whole world. Since 1865 it became a museum, nowadays with 50 rooms housing paintings ranging from the 13th century to the 18th century. All paintings have been displayed chronologically, so it is possible to fully appreciate all the innovations in art throughout the centuries.
